

Boston Stone Restoration

OWNED BY PAUL BUNIS AND HIS WIFE, MELISSA, Boston Stone focuses not only on the highest quality of craftsmanship, but also in exceptional customer service. Initially trained by renowned Italian stone expert Maurizio Bertoli, Paul has provided education and stone restoration solutions for years.

We work with homeowners, architects, designers, and general contractors, offering the best service and attention to detail in the area. Because stone is our passion, we are able to provide innovative and pragmatic solutions to even the most challenging issues.

Our commitment to ongoing training and education through The Stone and Tile School in Florida and at MB Stone Care in New Jersey ensures that all of our technicians are constantly perfecting their skills and keeping up to date with the latest industry developments and standards. Boston Stone Restoration is also committed to educating our clients in the proper care and maintenance of their marble or natural stone counters, floors, and other surfaces.

WHAT IS YOUR FAVORITE CITY?

Rome is my favorite city because you can see the history in the every day. From the Colosseum to the Pantheon to the ubiquitous water fountains, there is beauty and majesty at every turn. The fact that most everything is made of marble or natural stone is a bonus. And I love Italian food, too!

WHAT IS YOUR PROUDEST MOMENT?

Aside from the birth of my children, the opportunity to work in some of Boston's finest and most historic buildings, such as the Boston Public Library or the Wilbur Theatre, has been a moment of honor and pride for me. To be entrusted to care for the stone in these significant landmarks feels pretty amazing!

WHAT IS YOUR FAVORITE ROOM IN YOUR HOUSE?

I love to be in my kitchen cooking and entertaining. Whether I'm making omelettes to order for my kids or preparing Thanksgiving for thirty people, I am happiest surrounded by family, food, and good friends.
